Product Description

Barrier Reverse Convertibles are primarily targeted at investors expecting (i) the volatility of the Underlying to decrease, (ii) the value of the Underlying to remain constant or to slightly increase and (iii) that no Barrier Event will occur, in each case, throughout the term of the Products.

On the Final Redemption Date (if not early redeemed), a Product is redeemed at a cash amount equal to 100% of the Denomination if (i) no Barrier Event has occurred or (ii) a Barrier Event has occurred and the Final Level of the Underlying is at or above the Strike. Alternatively, if a Barrier Event has occurred and if the Final Level of the Underlying is below the Strike, a Product is redeemed on the Final Redemption Date (if not early redeemed) by delivery of a number of Underlyings. In such case, the Final Redemption Amount is linked to the negative performance of the Underlying.

The Products provide for a continuous observation of the Barrier.

II. Profit and Loss Prospects

The potential return on the Product is limited to the aggregate of the Interest Amounts and Premium Amounts scheduled to be paid under the Product. This means that the return on the Product is capped while a direct investment in the Underlying typically is not.

The potential loss associated with an investment in such Products is linked to the negative performance of the Underlying and corresponds to the difference between the invested amount and the aggregate of the Final Redemption Amount, which may be as low as zero, and the Interest Amounts and Premium Amounts. Although the Interest Amounts and the Premium Amounts will, subject to the issuer risk (see "III.1. Issuer Risk" below) and other extraordinary events (see "III.2. Early Redemption" below), be paid in any event, the loss resulting from the negative performance of the Underlying may equal or even clearly exceed the Interest Amount and Premium Amount payments. Investors therefore should be prepared to sustain a partial or total loss of their investment. Under certain circumstances described in the applicable Terms and Conditions, instead of receiving a cash amount in the Issue Currency upon redemption of the Product, holders of the Product will receive the number of Underlyings, as specified in the Ratio. In this case, the loss corresponds to the difference between the invested amount and the value of the number of Underlyings specified in the Ratio. The value of these Underlyings may be considerably lower than the invested amount. Further, investors must take into consideration that upon delivery of an Underlying as Final Redemption Amount, the loss will increase if the price of the Underlying decreases after the Final Fixing Date.

III. Significant Risks for Investors

The following risk disclosure cannot disclose all the risks associated with an investment in the Products. Therefore, potential investors in Products should consult the Base Prospectus and the Final Terms and their client advisor as to the product specific risks before making an investment decision.

1. Issuer Risk

Investors bear the credit risk of the Issuer. The Products´ retention of value is dependent not only on the development of the value of the Underlying, but also on the creditworthiness of the Issuer, which may change over the term of the Product. The credit rating of the Issuer is not a guarantee of credit quality. In case of the Issuer's insolvency or bankruptcy the investors in the Products may lose their entire investment.

The Products are direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer. If the Issuer were to become insolvent, claims of investors in Products will rank equally in right of payment with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Issuer, except such obligations given priority by law. In such a case, investors in Products may suffer a loss of all or a portion of their investment therein, irrespective of any favourable development of the other value determining factors, such as the performance of the Underlying(s).

The Products do not constitute bank accounts or deposits at Bank Julius Baer & Co. Ltd. The Products are less liquid than bank accounts or deposits and bear higher risks. An investment in Products will not be covered by any compensation or insurance scheme (such as a bank deposit protection scheme) of any government agency of Switzerland or any other jurisdiction and Products do not have the benefit of any government guarantee. Products are the obligations of the Issuer only and holders of Products must look solely to the Issuer for the performance of the Issuer's obligations under such Products. In the event of the insolvency of the Issuer, an investor in Products may lose all or some of its investment therein.

Bank Julius Baer & Co. Ltd. is a bank pursuant to the Federal Banking Act (BA; SR 952.0) and a securities firm pursuant to the Federal Act on Financial Institutions (FinIA; SR 954.1) subject to the prudential supervision by the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA in Berne (Laupenstrasse 27, CH-3003 Berne; http://www.finma.ch).

The Issuer, Bank Julius Baer & Co. Ltd., Guernsey Branch (a branch of Bank Julius Baer & Co. Ltd., Zurich, founded in Switzerland and under the supervision of the Swiss Financial Market Supervisory Authority FINMA), is licensed in Guernsey under the Banking Supervision (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law 1994 and The Protection of Investors (Bailiwick of Guernsey) Law 1987. Neither the Guernsey Financial Services Commission (P.O. Box 128, Glategny Court, Glategny Esplanade, St. Peter Port, Guernsey, Channel Islands, GY1 3HQ) nor the States of Guernsey Policy Council takes any responsibility for the financial soundness of the Issue or for the correctness of any of the statements made or opinions expressed with regard to it.

2. Product Risks

An investment in Products entails certain risks, which vary depending on the specific type and structure of the relevant Products and the relevant Underlying(s).

An investment in Products requires a thorough understanding of the nature of Products. Potential investors in Products should be experienced with respect to an investment in complex financial instruments and be aware of the related risks. A potential investor in Products should determine the suitability of such an investment in light of such investor's particular circumstances. In particular, a potential investor in Products should:

- have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of Products, the merits and risks of investing in Products and the information contained in the Base Prospectus and the applicable Terms and Conditions;
- have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of such investor's particular financial situation, an investment in Products and the impact the relevant Products will have on such investor's overall investment portfolio;
- have sufficient financial resources to bear all the risks of an investment in the relevant Products;
- understand thoroughly the Terms and Conditions applicable to the relevant Products and be familiar with the behaviour of the relevant Underlying(s) and financial markets;
- be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic and other factors that may affect such investor's investment and ability to bear the applicable risks of an investment in Products until their redemption; and
- recognise that it may not be possible to dispose of Products for a substantial period of time, if at all, before their redemption.

The trading market for securities, such as Products, may be volatile and may be adversely impacted by many events.

Products are complex financial instruments. Investors generally purchase complex financial instruments as a way to enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall investment portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in Products unless such investor has the expertise (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) to evaluate how the relevant Products will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the market value of the relevant Products and the impact such an investment will have on such investor's overall investment portfolio.

Risk of total loss

Products involve a high degree of risk, and prospective investors in the Products should recognise that, under certain circumstances, Products may have a redemption value of zero and any Payout Amounts, Interest Amounts and Premium Amounts scheduled to be paid thereunder may not be paid. Prospective investors should therefore be prepared to sustain a partial or total loss of the amount of their investment therein.

Capped Profit Potential

Investors in Products should be aware that the profit potential in relation thereto is capped. Therefore, an investment in Products may lead to a lower return than a direct investment in the Underlying(s).

Unpredictable Market Value for Products

During the term of a Product, the market value of, and the expected return on, such Product may be influenced by many factors, some or all of which may be unpredictable. Many economic and market factors will influence the market value of a Product. The Issuer expects that, generally, the value and volatility of the Underlying(s) on any day will affect the market value of such Product more than any other single factor. However, a potential investor should not expect the market value of a Product in the secondary market to vary in proportion to changes in the value of the Underlying(s). The return on a Product (if any) may bear little relation to, and may be much less than, the return that the investor therein might have achieved if such investor had invested directly in the Underlying(s).

The market value of, and return (if any) on, a Product will be affected by a number of other factors, which may be unpredictable or beyond the Issuer's control, and which may offset or magnify each other, including, without limitation:

- supply and demand for such Product, including inventory positions of any other market maker;
- the expected frequency and magnitude of changes in the market value of the Underlying(s) (volatility);
- economic, financial, political or regulatory events or judicial decisions that affect the Issuer, the Underlying(s) or the financial markets generally;
- interest and yield rates in the market generally;
- the time remaining until the Final Redemption Date;
- if applicable, the difference between the Level or Commodity Reference Price, as applicable, and the relevant threshold specified in the applicable Terms and Conditions;
- the Issuer's creditworthiness, including actual or anticipated downgrades in the Issuer's credit ratings; and
- dividend payments on the Underlying(s), if any.

Some or all of these factors may influence the price of a Product. The impact of any of the factors set forth above may enhance or offset some or all of any change resulting from another factor or factors.

In addition, certain built-in costs are likely to adversely affect the market value of Products. The price at which the Issuer will be willing to purchase Products from a holder in secondary market transactions, if at all, will likely be lower than the original Issue Price.

Exposure to the performance of the Underlyings

Each Product will represent an investment linked to the performance of the Underlying(s) and potential investors should note that any amount(s) payable or other benefit to be received under the Products will generally depend upon the performance of the Underlying(s). The past performance of the Underlyings is not indicative of the future performance.

Exchange Rate Risk

The Underlying(s) may be denominated in a currency other than that of the Issue Currency or, if applicable, the Settlement Currency for such Product, or the Underlying(s) may be denominated in a currency other than, or the Issue Currency or, if applicable, the Settlement Currency may not be, the currency of the home jurisdiction of the investor in such Product. Exchange rates between currencies are determined by factors of supply and demand in the international currency markets, which are in particular influenced by macro economic factors, speculation and central bank and government intervention (including the imposition of currency controls and restrictions). Therefore, fluctuations in exchange rates may adversely affect the market value of a Product or the value of the Underlying(s).

Secondary Market

Products may have no established trading market when issued and one may never develop. If a market does develop, it may not be liquid. Therefore, investors may not be able to sell their Products easily or at prices reasonably acceptable to them.

Under normal market circumstances, the Issuer will endeavour to provide a secondary market for Products, but is under no obligation to do so. Upon investor demand, the Issuer will endeavour to provide bid/offer prices for products, depending on actual market conditions. There will be a price difference between bid and offer prices (spread).

Early Redemption

The investors must be aware of a possible early redemption of the Product.

Upon the occurrence of an extraordinary event, the Calculation Agent and the Issuer, acting together, have the right to, among other things, early redeem the relevant Products. Furthermore, the Issuer has the right to redeem the Product at any Optional Early Redemption Date. If the Issuer exercises such early redemption right(s), investors should be aware that the early redemption price may be considerably lower than the Issue Price (or, if different, the price the relevant investor paid for such product) and/or the Final Redemption Amount that would otherwise have been paid on the Final Redemption Date.

Further product specific risks

Investors should be aware that an investment in such Products generally results in a loss upon redemption if a Barrier Event has occurred during the term of the Products and the Final Level of the Underlying is below the relevant Strike. A Barrier Event will occur if the value of the Underlying at any time (observed continuously) on any Barrier Observation Date is at or below the Barrier. The potential loss associated with an investment in such Products is linked to the negative performance of the Underlying. In the case of a physical settlement, delivery of the Underlying will not be made on the date of valuation of the Underlying, but on the Final Redemption Date (or the first Delivery Day thereafter). Accordingly, an investor in the Products will be exposed to the risk that the value of the Underlying to be delivered will decline between the date of valuation and the time of delivery. Furthermore, if the Product is physically settled, any investor therein will be exposed to the risks relating to the Underlying to be delivered (i.e. the Share, Share Issuer).

Furthermore, investors in the Products should be aware the Products provide for an Issuer Call Option, i.e. the Issuer is entitled to redeem the Products in whole but not in part prior to the Final Redemption Date. The Issuer is likely to early redeem such Products when its cost of borrowing is lower than the yield on such Products. As a result, (i) if the Issuer exercises its right to early redeem the Products, investors in such Products will not be able to participate in any performance of the Underlying(s) after the date of such early redemption and (ii) investors in such Products may incur additional transaction costs as a consequence of reinvesting proceeds received upon any early redemption and the conditions for such a reinvestment may be less favourable than the relevant investor's initial investment in the Products. If the Issuer exercises its call option, investors should note that no Interest Amounts or Premium Amounts that would otherwise have been due after the date of such early redemption will be paid.

Investors in the Products should be prepared to sustain a partial or total loss of their investment.
