Income treatment	During the Certificate's lifetime, any dividends, coupons, and other income (net of any taxes and fees) will be reinvested in the respective underlying assets.

Duties and execution fees	When the product's components are traded on a venue that levies fees and duties, these fees and duties affect the Certificate's performance. These fees and duties could include a federal stamp duty, financial transaction tax, or any other ad-hoc fee for purchasing or selling a component security or incurred during the life of the portfolio.

Certificate redemption	The redemption amount per Certificate in the base currency is equal to the value of the Certificate as determined by the Calculation Agent at its reasonable discretion on the final valuation date or the effective termination date. The Calculation Agent will use the value of the Reference Portfolio or one of its multiples as well as the sum of the values of all of the Reference Portfolio's component securities. The final unwind of the portfolio is considered as rebalancing.
Liquidity risk at redemption	If a lack of daily liquidity is likely to have a significant impact on the sale of component securities, the Issuer reserves the right to place sale orders over several days so as not to adversely affect the Certificate's redemption price.
Issuer's right of termination	The Issuer has the right to terminate all certificates in circulation at any time, but no earlier than 9 months after the issue. Termination must be announced at least 1 month prior to the effective termination date. The final valuation date for calculating the redemption amount may be up to 30 trading days after the effective termination date. As some of the component securities are illiquid, no guarantee can be made as to the length of the final valuation period.

2. Profit and loss expectations

Market outlook	This Certificate is designed to take advantage of a rise in value of the Reference Portfolio's component securities.
Potential profit	Certificate holders may make a profit if the Certificate's market price rises above its acquisition price. The potential return on the Certificate at the final valuation date is comparable to the return on the underlying asset.
Potential loss	Certificate holders may make a loss if they sell the Certificate during its life or redeem the Certificate on the final valuation date at a price below its acquisition price. If the securities in the basket are not denominated in the Certificate's base currency, and if the Investment Manager decides to not fully hedge the currency risk, an unfavorable movement in exchange rates may decrease the price of the Certificate.

Scenarios

Certificate performance in the base currency of the certificate (net of product fees)	Amount redeemed per certificate
25%	EUR 122,1875
10%	EUR 107,525
0%	EUR 97,75
-5%	EUR 92,8625
-10%	EUR 87,975

3. Significant risks incurred by the investor

Risk tolerance	The risks are comparable to those of a direct investment in the Reference Portfolio's component securities (e.g., price movements, holding-period risk, and price volatility). The risks inherent in certain investments, particularly derivatives, may not be suitable for all investors. Before conducting any transaction, investors should evaluate their risk profile and seek information on inherent risks, and are urged to read the SwissBanking brochure "Risks Involved in Trading Financial Instruments" (available at BCV branches or online at: http://www.bcv.ch/static/pdf/en/risques_particuliers.pdf).
Issuer risk	Investors are exposed to the risk of insolvency of the issuer, which could lead to the loss of all or part of the invested capital. Whether an investment product retains its value does not depend solely on the performance of the underlying asset(s) but also on the solvency of the issuer, which may change during the product's lifetime. The rating stated in this document for the issuer was valid at the time of issuance and may change during the product's lifetime.
Secondary market/market liquidity	In the event of special market conditions that prevent the Issuer from being able to enter into hedging transactions or that make such transactions difficult to carry out, the spread between bid and ask prices may be temporarily expanded in order to limit the economic risk for the Issuer.
Market risk	Investors are exposed to the risks of adjustments in the underlying asset, non-convertibility, extraordinary market situations and emergencies, such as the suspended listing of the underlying asset, trading restrictions, and any other measures that materially restrict the tradability of the underlying asset. Investors are subject to the legal and contractual obligations of the markets on which the underlying asset is traded and to the legal and contractual obligations provided by or governing the issuer. Such market events could affect the dates and other terms and conditions in this document.
Exchange-rate risk	Investors whose base currency is not the settlement currency for the product should be aware of exchange-rate risk.

Other risks	Investors are advised to read about other potential risks as described in detail in the Base Prospectus.
Adjustments	The Issuer reserves the right to adjust the Certificate's composition in case of special events affecting one or more of the Reference Portfolio's component securities, including but not limited to a merger, acquisition, or severe restriction on tradability. Adjustments will be made in accordance with current market practices and in the interest of investors.
